Bishop Kelly High School has been selected as one of eight hosts nationwide of the day-long Team Captain's Leadership Camp, an intensive and interactive sports leadership camp for aspiring and actual leaders of all sports, to be held at Bishop Kelly High School, July 18, from

Arranged by former Bishop Kelly Head Softball Coach Wes Worrell, the camp is run by the Janssen Sports Leadership Center, which conducts comprehensive Leadership Academies with several of the nation's top athletic departments such as North Carolina, Notre Dame, Georgetown, Wake Forest, Michigan, and Yale.

"Jeff Janssen has had a twelve year association with the Bishop Kelly softball program. I have attended several of Jeff's Competent Coaching Seminars and hosted Jeff in Boise for the Idaho High School Coaches Convention and subsequent Leadership Seminar for Treasure Valley athletes at BSU. Anyone who participates will leave the training with practical tools to enrich their skill set for leadership with a renewed confidence and enthusiasm." - Coach Worrell

The Leadership Camp teaches high school sophomores through college seniors the leadership insights and skills needed to be a highly effective and respected leaders of their teams. The camp is limited to 100 participants, with an early registration fee of $175 if completed by May 1, 2009 and a still-discounted fee of $275 after May 1, depending on space.

The registration fee includes the six-hour training session on July 18, six months of ongoing leadership development and support online through the Team Captain's Network (www.teamcaptainsnetwork.com), a copy of Janssen's book The Team Captain's Leadership Manual, and a Captain's Camp T-shirt along with snacks provided throughout the day.

"I have seen for myself how the leadership instilled by Jeff Janssen can impact a team over a course of the season. Many of the teambuilding activities and leadership traits taught by Jeff Janssen at the Competent Coaches Seminar I attended were then passed on to the members of the softball program. These leadership traits and skills can be taught and an athlete's ability to lead can be improved. The Captain's Leadership Camp will empower the participants to not only improve their leadership qualities but instill the confidence to teach others and contribute the intangibles leading to their respective athletic programs success." - Coach Wes Worrell

"Jeff Janssen shares in the success of the BK softball program. It is not a coincidence that BK's run of 8 state titles and two runner-up finishes began in 1997 following our first meeting at a clinic in Seattle in the fall of 1996" - Worrell
